

Letter of originality, conflict of interest and grants of first publication rights

Date:

Editorial Board of Anales del Instituto de Actuarios Españoles

The author(s):

the undersigned, in his/her/their capacity as author(s) of the article entitled:

and submitted for evaluation to the above-mentioned journal,

DECLARE UNDER OATH that:

1. The article is ORIGINAL and UNPUBLISHED: that is to say, it is an intellectual production of the author(s) indicated above and has not been disclosed to third parties in any public form, by any printed or digital media.
2. The article has not been simultaneously submitted for publication to another print or electronic journal, or to any other written medium or editorial body.
3. The author(s) have not previously signed any contracts with third parties for the grant of proprietary rights or licences of use in relation to the intellectual property rights they hold in the article submitted that would prevent them from assigning them by means of this act.
4. The author(s) accept both the single-blind peer review and the possible corrections to the article resulting from the evaluation carried out by the reviewers, and if the article is accepted with modifications, the author(s) will make the appropriate corrections indicated in the time stipulated.

5. The author(s) are aware of the Journal's Code of Ethics, and fully comply with its requirements.
6. In the case of articles produced as collaborative works - whether they are works in which the authors have the same level of participation or those in which there is one main author and one or more secondary authors - all of them have contributed intellectually to the production of the document.
7. In the case of articles prepared as collaborative works, in relation to the acknowledgement made with respect to the levels of participation assigned by the authors of the article, the authors release Anales del Instituto de Actuarios Españoles from any responsibility. The order in which they appear in the final list of this letter will be the order in which they will appear in the article. The order of priority will be established by the authors.
8. In the case of articles prepared as collaborative works, all authors have read and approved the submitted manuscript. With this understanding, the undersigned authors designate the following author:

as the person in charge of receiving correspondence and with sufficient authority to represent the other authors.

9. Acknowledges that the Journal does not necessarily share the assertions made in the article.
10. You declare that all in-text citation data and their respective references have the source and credit properly identified and have been cited according to the latest edition of the APA Style \(Publication Standards\).
11. Provide permissions or authorisations from those who hold the proprietary rights for the use of tables and figures (illustrations, photographs, drawings, maps, diagrams or other) in the brief.
12. In the event that the article submitted is accepted for publication, Authors retain copyright and grant the right of first publication to the journal, which will publish the article on the internet on the journal's website, under the terms of the Creative Commons CC BY-NC-ND 4.0 Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivatives 4.0 International License.

13. Readers may use, copy, disseminate, transmit and publicly display the full text of the articles as long as they cite the authorship and original source of publication (journal, publisher and URL of the work), do not use the articles for commercial purposes and mention the existence and specifications of this license for use.
14. Accept(s) that, with their collaboration, the article submitted will be adjusted by the Journal's editorial team to the "Publication Standards" previously established and published on the Journal's official website (<https://revistas.actuarios.org/index.php/aiae/>) in terms of procedures, format, proofreading, editing, translation, publication, duration of the editorial process and other requirements requested in these guidelines.
15. In accordance with the protection of personal data laws, the AUTHOR(S) consents to provide the Journal with a contact e-mail address, as well as the personal data necessary for the identification of the authorship of the article:

In turn, author(s) authorise the journal to publish, together with the article, the necessary personal data (name, surname, institution of affiliation, city and country, e-mail, and academic identifier, preferably ORCID). Any personal data other than those indicated above will be protected by the journal with absolute confidentiality and may not be disclosed or transferred to third parties without the consent of the AUTHOR(S).

16. Admits that the submission and possible publication of the article in Anales del Instituto de Actuarios Españoles will be governed by the editorial policies of the journal and of the Instituto de Actuarios Españoles.
